2. [Redacted] advised me that the National Security Agency had neither approved nor disapproved of our proposal to undertake [Redacted] activities in Latin America in support of our Station Chiefs. He said that General Cabell felt we should go ahead with this in Latin America as well as other places where it is necessary to render direct support to our Station Chiefs.

3. [Redacted] also reported that in view of the current situation in the Near East and the Soviet publicity concerning the intercontinental ballistics missile there is renewed pressure to get going on Project [Redacted]. (I don't know where the slots are going to come from for either [Redacted] or the Latin America [Redacted] gram.)
